

Maritime Business Review (MABR)

MABR is a peer-reviewed and open-access journal. It aims to provide the latest research insights and state-of-the-art theory and management practice to maritime researchers and practitioners on all aspects of maritime business. It is included in Emerging Sources Citation Index (ESCI) and Scopus index.

New Articles & Call-for-Papers

According to the latest statistics from SCImago Journal Rank (SJR), MABR has been ranked in the top 50% (Q2) of the area "Business and International Management", as well as the top 75% (Q3) in the areas of "Transportation", "Management of Technology and Innovation", and "Strategy and Management" among other SSCI journals of the same category in the Web of Science.

We are now accepting paper submission, details are available at: <https://www.emeraldgrouppublishing.com/journal/mabr#author-guidelines>

The latest issue is now available online:
Volume 6, Issue 4, 2021

Security risk management: a case of Qalhat liquefied natural gas terminal

Kambiz Mokhtari, Noorul Shaiful Fitri Abdul Rahman, Hamid Reza Soltani, Salim Ahmed Al Rashdi, Kawkab Abdul Aziz Mohammed Al Balushi (pp. 318-338)

The impact of the 2020 global sulfur cap on maritime CO2 emissions

Vasiliki Zisi, Harilaos N. Psaraftis, Thalys Zis (pp. 339-357)

Can corporate social responsibility enhance organizational image and commitment in the ocean freight forwarding industry?

Ching-Chiao Yang, Po-Lin Lai, Xiaonan Zhu (pp. 358-376)

An investigation on behavioral biases in ship investments of small-sized shipping companies

Ersin Firat Akgul, Ismail Bilge Cetin (pp. 377-391)

Double matching service preference for promoting short sea shipping: evidence from Taiwan

Chi-Chang Lin, Yenming J. Chen, Jau-Wen Wang (pp. 392-413)

Market structure of short sea shipping in northeast Asia

So-Young Park, Su-Han Woo, Po-Lin Lai (pp. 414-429)

